Your valued membership is needed in:

Growing Communities – Our advocacy efforts do not only center on farming issues but to also ensure rural communities have access to the tools needed to thrive such as adequate infrastructure, quality health care and 21st century communications technology. Farm Bureau members are leaders in their communities working to engage in education and charitable efforts to meet rural communities' needs during the 2020 pandemic crisis, while producing food and growing the state's economy.

Providing Many Voices – We're the big tent that unites people around food, environment and community. Members lead the organization as we work to grow and diversify those who Pennsylvania and County Farm Bureaus represent.

Representing United Vision – Our grassroots members, volunteers and professional staff advance the interests of farm and rural communities through political advocacy, consumer education, public outreach and leadership development.

We hope you are willing to experience the value of membership in Pennsylvania Farm Bureau!
